NEW HAVEN, April 6.-The latest returns from this, the second congressional district, give Pheips a majority over Kellogg of 1195, with five towns yet to hear from, which two years ago gave a Democratic majority of 149. Returns from the third district are meagre, but probably Starkweather is re-elected. The State is undoubtedly Democratic. The senate is Democratic by a large majority, the returns having already elected thirteen Democrats out of twenty-one. There are large Republican gains on the representatives and the house is probably close. Governor Ingersoll's majority over all is about 9482. There was a largely decreased prohibition vote, the total in the State being about 2400. The senate will stand fifteen Democrats to six Republicans, a gain of two for the latter. The Republicans have also gained in the house, but there will still be a Democratic majority of about twenty. Starkweather, Republican, is re-elected to congress over Ex-United States Senator Foster.

THE CANFIELD ASYLUM.

the catared Orphan Asylum to be Reestablished. The New Board !

Trustees. About the close of the war some benevolent people projected a scheme for taking care of the large number of colored orphan children which at that time thronged the streets of Memphis and the thoroughfares of neighboring towns and villages, and to this end procured the means necessary for the establishment of an saylum. The large and commodifinished was turned over to the convention of the Protestant Episcopal church, and by that body, at its session of 1866, held in Bolivir, duly received. Trustees were appointed by the convention, who sought for several years to execute the trust according to the provisions of the charter. A large number of children were gathered, and for a time the institution was it a flourishing condition. Gradually the number of inmates, from Fletcher, and a majority of the city various causes grew smaller, until none were left, and there seemed no prospect of doing any in ther work for this class of beneficiaries. Following the order of the charter provided for such contin-gency, there was next established in the building a free school for colored children, which was taught for about one year by a Mr. Thompson, and after that turned over to Mr. J. B. M'Connell, who votes will not be counted before morning. has had charge of it for about three years. This school numbers about ninety pupils, and has been sustained without any aid whatever from any source except that provided by the board of trustees. For a little more than one year the Church Home rented and occupied these premises, making other provision for the colored spaced but myon the completion school, but upon the completion of the recent purchase of what is known as the Leath property, the Church Home removed to that, and sought to restore the Canfield property to its original uses. This is now happily accomplished, and this colored orphan asylum is lately so reorganized and perfected in capacity for charity that very much may now be expected from it. Under the charter the bishop and Mrs.

Canfield are permanent members of the board of trustees. The other members of the former board having all resigned, the new board is constituted as follows: Messrs. Ed. Shaw, Isaac E. Black, J. B. M'Connell and Fred. Hunt, with, of course, the ex officio members as before. This board will immediately address itself to the work of re-opening the asylum. In this charitable work they will have the active co-operation and working sympathy, not only of the Episcopal church, but of every col-ored congregation in the city, while it is the earnest wish of the board that nerve to undertake it under all the disadvantages of a previous failure in other hands, they feel sure it is in their power to supply what what was wanting in the previous effort. Meriting the sympathy of the people at large, they will not ask for it in vain. We predict a bright
